Gabrielle Traub, M.Tech (Hom), CCH

Gabrielle Traub is a sought-after speaker who has taught practitioners and physicians in England, South Africa, Pakistan, Dubai and throughout the USA. She is regularly interviewed on television and radio and produces and hosts the radio show "Vital Force". <http://vitalforceradio.com/>

Gabrielle's science and research background brings a clear and rational element to her teaching. Her warm, exuberant personality captivates audiences and her experience with extreme cases makes her seminars dynamic and exciting. Gabrielle currently practices in San Diego, California, where she works in a traditional OB-GYN clinic as well as an integrative medical clinic. Before creating her own integrative clinic she was part of a core team of clinicians at an in-patient treatment center for eating disorders, addictions, chronic pain and PTSD, where she treated hundreds of patients with disabling psychiatric conditions. She has won the respect of both the medical and homoeopathic communities and serves to narrow the gap between them.

Gabrielle has conducted double-blind clinical trials on Homoeopathic treatment for thought interference, nervousness and anxiety. She is the founder of World Homeopathy Awareness Week and received an honorary doctorate for her contribution to the profession. Gabrielle is currently on the faculty of the Los Angeles School of Homeopathy, the American Medical College of Homeopathy (the first US homoeopathic medical school since the turn of the century), The Homeopathic Academy of Southern California and The Pacific College of Oriental Medicine, where she teaches Materia Medica, Anatomy and Pathology. She has also taught Homoeopathy to pharmacy students at University of California, San Diego.

Gabrielle studied homoeopathy at the University of Johannesburg, in South Africa, where she trained in hospitals and rural clinics. She has been blessed with the opportunity to study with world renowned teachers such as George Vithoulkas, Paul Herscu, Ronald Boyer (Head of Boiron USA) and Jeremy Sherr. She is nationally certified by the Council for Homeopathic Certification and retains her license with The Allied Health Service Professions Council of South Africa. She is on the Homeopathic Executive Board for The License Commission of the Americas.
